The DGET also made a presentation, highlighting that these are the three most popular trades under the Craftsmen Training Scheme (CTS), which is used to impart the training in all the Industrial Training Institutes in the country. These three trades cumulatively account for 60% of the seats in ITIs in India. The DGET also informed that mentor councils were set up last year to revamp the curriculum as per industry requirement. During the process of making these qualifications NSQF compliant, the curriculum had to be restructured to make it competency based, and the same has been submitted as part of the Qualification File. In the next stage, six trades under the Apprenticeship Training Scheme (ATS), which covers 70% of seats under the scheme, would be taken up in order to make them NSQF compliant.

After discussions, the following decisions were taken:

a. The Qualifications Files submitted by the DGET in respect of the National Trade Certificates for Turner, Fitter and Electrician were approved for being included in the Qualifications Register, each at Level 4.

b. Since the process of populating the Qualifications Register would be an ongoing one, the NSDA was authorized to set up a permanent secretariat to examine submissions made by various qualification awarding bodies, and to make recommendations at NSQC meetings. The NSQC meetings would also need to be held more frequently - preferably every month.

c. The DGET requested that the difference between QPs and Qualifications needs to be clarified. While some of the QPs could qualify as qualifications, others may not, and it needed to be decided where these QPs would be listed in the Qualifications Register.

Agenda Item No. 7: Approval of QPs for Capital Goods Sector Skill Council

The Capital Goods Skill Council submitted the Qualification Files for 6 QPs developed by them before the NSQC for approval.
